G. O. P. CHIEFS FOR BOMBING OF RED CHINA

Washington, April 25—(P)—Republicans called today for the bombing of Red China bases. Democrats questioned a report that Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway had urged use of Chinese Nationalist troops in battle.

Hot argument over the conflicting views of President Truman and Gen. Douglas MacArthur on how to fight the Korean war hit a new peak in congress as a Communist offensive smashed at Allied lines some 10,000 miles away.

In the oratorical infighting here, Senator Wiley (R-Wis.) proposed that the United Nations be asked to approve aerial attacks on the Manchuria base "sanctuaries" about which MacArthur complained before Mr. Truman fired him as Pacific commander.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) asserted that if the U. N. "ever is to be victorious in Korea," Chinese Nationalist troops from Formosa must be used in the battle against the Communist foe.

MacArthur has urged the use of Nationalist troops, air operations over Manchuria and blockade of the China coast. He told congress it was his understanding that top military men—including the chiefs of staff—had shared his views in the past, from a military standpoint.

Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs, has made it clear, however, he agrees with Mr. Truman such measures for expansion of the Korean fighting might lead to World War III.

Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, MacArthur's chief adviser, tossed some flaming gasoline on this controversy. At a news conference in New York yesterday he said Ridgway had proposed to the Pentagon that Chinese troops from Formosa be sent into battle.

Whitney said all senior officers in the Far East favored use of Chiang Kai-Shek's troops.

The senate armed services and probably the foreign relations committees have arranged to hear MacArthur May 3 at the start of an over-all inquiry into American military and foreign policies in Asia.

Chairman Russell (D-Ga.), who will run the investigation, favors keeping the hearings closed to the public.

More Than 100 Communities in State to Turn Clocks Ahead for Summer Months

Harrisburg, April 25—(P)—Daylight Saving starts next Sunday in Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and more than 100 other communities will turn their clocks ahead one hour for the summer months. The clocks will be turned back again one hour in September.

The state government will observe Daylight Saving Time by advancing official schedules one hour without changing the clocks.

A state law requires observance of Eastern Standard Time in official operations. Efforts in the legislature in the past to recognize daylight saving time by changing the clocks have failed of action.

In case you're wondering how DST operates, it's really simple: If you live in a community which observes Daylight Saving Time, on Saturday night turn the clock ahead one hour.

When the time comes for Daylight Saving Time to end move the clock back one hour.

The usual number of hitches may be expected with the changeover. Over sleepers who forget to advance the time, mixups in transportation schedules and broken appointments are certain to be among them.

The last legislative attempt to get the commonwealth officially to acknowledge Daylight Saving Time was in 1947.

A bill was introduced then to allow the people to vote in a referendum on whether DST should be statewide or confined to local communities.

After a scorching debate and long behind-the-scenes maneuvering, the bill passed the house of representatives but died in the senate committee to which it was referred.

No such move has been made in the present legislature.

STORES CLOSED

The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board yesterday ordered all state liquor stores to remain closed until two p. m. today because of the death of Mrs. John S. Fine, wife of Governor Fine.

One-Fourth of the Nation's Economy Under New Order Designed to Roll Back Prices

Washington, April 25—(P)—President Truman called in his top economic mobilization team today for a conference on what changes are needed in the economic controls law.

He is expected to send congress soon a message asking extension and revision of the defense production act which expires in June. The economic controls are authorized by that act.

Nearly one fourth of the American economy was brought under a single sweeping price order yesterday which the government said will roll back "the general level of manufacturers' prices."

However, some officials working with the stabilization program contend more authority is needed to hold down prices of food and farm products. The present law forbids ceilings on them below parity—a price defined in farm laws as fair to both producers and consumers.

The parity price for a farm product rises and falls with advances and declines in the prices of things farmers buy.

Price Director Michael V. Disalle expects the factory ceiling, covering 75,000 plants, to wipe out part of the runaway price boom that followed the Korean invasion.

The country will find, Disalle predicted, that his Office of Price Stabilization has "not been playing pat-a-cake with prices"—that in the months ahead people will realize "the whole program is tougher than they have been led to believe."

OPS will follow up with three more major ceilings within a week.

These will cover machinery, cotton textiles, and wearing apparel including shoes.

The new ceilings must be in force by May 28. Retail buyers will feel the effect later, depending on how long it takes for the new goods to reach retailers' shelves and showrooms.

This array of products is covered:

Consumer "hard goods" including radios, television sets, refrigerators, washing machines, ranges, furniture, hardware, household appliances.

Many processed food and grocery items including breakfast cereals, crackers, cookies, macaroni, spaghetti, canned fish, potato chips, mustard, baked beans, pickles, peanut butter, sauces, seasonings, baking powder, candy, soup mixes, meat extracts, gelatin desserts, olives, yeast, and dog food.

A wide group of miscellaneous items including auto tires and tubes, many building materials (but not lumber or plywood, which are otherwise controlled), paper and paper products, rayon and some other textiles.

It is in addition to $48,000,000 already voted the military by congress for the fiscal year ending June 30.

In the immediate offing is the regular military budget for the year starting July 1. Military (Turn to Page Eight)

FALLS THROUGH FLOOR

Mrs. Bessie Menard, 23 Elm street, was rushed to Warren General Hospital at noon today when she had fallen through a floor—X-rays are being taken at press time to determine the extent of injuries she may have suffered from her back in the 10 to 12-foot fall onto a cement floor in the basement.

Unidentified Plane Crashes in Ocean

Key West, Fla., April 25—(P)—A large, unidentified aircraft crashed into the ocean today a mile off the south beach of Key West. Several residents of the city saw the plane fall.

A navy plane flew over the crash scene a few minutes later and reported it saw no signs of wreckage or survivors.

Eyewitnesses said the plane resembled a DC-3. Navy and CAA authorities said they knew nothing of such a craft being in the area. It was believed to be a civilian plane.

A few minutes after the plane fell, a Navy crash boat reached the scene and bits of wreckage began to rise to the surface.

World Membership Day Is Successfully Observed With Program at Y. W. C. A.

Many members and friends of the YWCA cooperated for a very successful celebration of World Membership Day in the form of a Festival of Nations held in the activities building last evening.

Mrs. Ralph Sires, chairman of the world fellowship committee, presided for the program, which opened with selections by the Y-Ten Chorus, directed by Viola Lindmark. They sang "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," a Scottish song, and "All Through the Night," an old Welsh air, accompanied at the piano by Marian Whipple.

Dance numbers presented by pupils from Dick Rapp's Studio were especially enjoyed. Dale and Allen Potter, John Check and Diane Anderson presented a tap dance, "Tea for Two"; Shannon Madigan, Jane Duffield and Rose Marie Combert gave "Invitation to the Dance"; Nancy King and Dick Rapp followed the international theme of the program with their dance number, "A Street Scene in Paris." Patty Larsen was at the piano for the dances.

Other children on the program were Ann Loding and Robert Engstrom, who played some German tunes on their accordions. Robert sang a tune in German to the delight of the audience.

Further variety in the evening's entertainment was Fu Ling U with his Chinese magic, Bill Hill, in Chinese costume who was assisted by Harold Ericson, Clark Groch and Bill Wehner.

Some of Warren's most talented musicians appeared on the program. Violet Borg, in costume, sang several Swedish numbers, accompanied by Linnea Scott; Tessie Fino sang two Italian numbers, "Rispetto" by E. Wolfe-Fenan, and "La Girometta" by Gabriele Sibella. The string trio, Helen Olson, Eleanor Sandblade and Marjorie Whipple, played "Ave Maria."

A fitting conclusion was the film, "Sing a Song of Friendship," with the audience joining to sing such songs as "Thomas Jefferson," "Let's Make the World of Tomorrow Today," and "One World."

On display were beautiful articles made in Germany, France, Mexico, Greece, Japan, Spain, The Ukraine, Scotland and Italy. Punch and cookies were served.

Mrs. Sires wishes to thank all who helped to make this a successful celebration. Proceeds from the evening are for the World Fellowship Fund.

Another part of the National YWCA Week observance will be an Evening of Fun at 8:30 p. m. Friday, when Mrs. Paul Harrington and her committee cordially invite the public to join in playing cards and square dancing.

Borough Officials Concerned Over the Future Prospects of Municipal Airport

Warren borough officials are worried over the none-too-rosy prospect for the future of the municipal airport.

The airport, one of the first to be set up in this area, is now about 20 years old, and was operated most of that period by Virgil (Slip) King, veteran pilot and ardent aviation enthusiast, who died recently.

King managed the airport for the borough on a contract basis, with a five percent commission going into the borough treasury. The air base provided a center for fostering interest in aviation in the Warren area, and numerous pilots who served with distinction with the Air Force in World War II got their start in flying under Slip's able direction.

Mrs. King, with the aid of her attorney, is continuing to handle the airport affairs until council decides what it wants to do.

Several parties are reported interested in the airport manager contract. But the biggest stumbling block is the matter of finances.

The airport reached its peak years of activity immediately following the close of World War II when many students enrolled under the GI Bill of Rights for training as pilots and technicians.

However, that aid for GI's is no longer available and the pilot training program here and in many other communities has slumped.

The past year's business was so light, one official said, that the borough's commission wasn't near enough to pay for the insurance on the hangar. He said no definite decision has been made regarding the airport's future, but that every effort will be made to keep at least the runways in shape and maintain facilities for gas-sing up the planes.

However, the borough is looking for space in which to house bulky pieces of machinery like the snow-loader and the grader, (Turn to Page Eight)

ONE CAR ACCIDENT

State Police said this morning that they were called to investigate a one car accident at the east end of the Glade bridge at 2:45 a. m. today. The car was operated by Ludwig Gobliger, 105 Homestead Place, home on leave from the U. S. Navy. No one was injured but the car was extensively damaged. Police said that Gobliger lost control of the vehicle and struck the guard railing.

The Catholic Daughters of America and individual donors paid tribute to Dr. Clancy with contributions to the new memorial fund administered by Warren General Hospital Auxiliary. Officers of the auxiliary said they were gratified by the response of other organizations, as well, in giving to the fund.

money from donations, of all amounts, will be spent for special equipment and instruments which the present-day doctors request for the new hospital.

Dr. Clancy had an active practice in Warren during the 1920's. His office was above the present Sears Roebuck store. In World War I he served as an Army doctor on the European fronts. Later he traveled to Copenhagen to learn the "gold cure" for tuberculosis. This treatment he administered at his TB sanatorium near Warren for many years before his death in 1931.

Memorial tributes to the family doctors of former years may be mailed to Mrs. W. Treat Davidson, 410 Fourth avenue, chairman of the project.

Frank Colossimo, 46, of Kinzua, suffered fracture of the wrist and shock in a mishap at the Betts Machine Company on the West Side this morning. He was taken to Warren General Hospital in the Peterson ambulance, and will remain there overnight.

Company officials said the workman was trapped when large metal tubing which he was helping to unload from a truck started to roll. The fact that the bulk of the pipe rolling off the truck fell against one of the machines in the plant saved the Kinzua man from more serious injury.

With Chinese Reported Less Than 25 Miles Away Refugees Start Pouring Out of Seoul

Tokyo, April 25—(P)—Communist troop masses crushed forward along the entire western half of a 100-mile battle front today in their third invasion of South Korea.

But to the east, counter-attacking Allied tank columns stopped the Reds in their tracks and even hurled them back at some points.

On the west central front, United Nations forces pulled back abruptly and broke contact with the Reds. The withdrawal was so rapid some rear elements were trapped.

One was ambushed by Communists wearing white civilian garb or the blue denim uniforms of South Korean supply bearers.

In the extreme west, Allies fell back in orderly fashion before swarms of Chinese, exploiting their Imjin river crossing. They were less than 25 miles north of Seoul. South Korean capital out of which refugees poured in dust clouded columns.

A tank-led relief column fought its way to a trapped U. N. battalion south of Imjin.

Some U. N. forces counterattacked at Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, told his troops, "in three days of battle (you) have proven your superiority" over the 400,000 attacking Reds.

The bulk of the Chinese in the west were pouring down the Yonchon-Uijongbu invasion route. This highway also leads to Seoul. Allied fighter planes and bombers attacked them all day long.

The most abrupt U. N. pullback was to the east of this road, in the west-central sector.

The ambush by the disguised Reds was sprung during this withdrawal, just east of the Kumhwa-Uijongbu road. Allied Department of Defense casualty lists from Korea released today contain the name of Pfc. Charles A. Weaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Weaver, 336 East Third street, Erie, killed in action.

Artillery and warplanes cut up the Reds. But field dispatches said at least three Chinese divisions were streaming southward.

Allied reinforcements and counterattacks plugged the hole on the central front. An estimated 100,000 Chinese, including big strapping fellows from the Manchurian plains, were halted seven miles south of the 38.

A heavy Allied counterattack smashed into Reds pouring down the main road toward Chunchon. A fierce battle began early in the morning and still raged in mid-afternoon.

Southwest of abandoned Hwachon, U. N. artillery blasted a path for a counterattacking column. Allies who pulled back from the reserve city wheeled and hit the Reds on the flank.

COMPLAINTS KEEP POLICE DEPARTMENT BUSY DURING NIGHT

In contrast to Monday evening, when city police spent a relatively quiet night with few complaints, they were kept on the jump last night with a series of complaints and investigations.

The first complaint involved a neighborhood barking where one resident had kidnapped another's dog and taken it to the country where it was housed on a farm. The taker promised to bring the dog back.

Another neighborhood feud involved the building of a picket fence. Officers restored peace and told the builder to stay on his own property.

Officers were called to Water street where a resident had fallen off a porch. Passersby had assisted the person into his home and called a doctor before police arrived.

Two stolen bicycles were reported last evening, the bikes being taken from the vicinity of the YMCA.

Traffic officers on patrol made five arrests during the evening. One driver was found to have no operator's license; one was arrested for reckless driving; two were booked for driving too fast for conditions; and one drove through a red traffic light.

Further Plans For State Hospital Open House Announced

Dr. Robert H. Israel, superintendent, has announced further plans regarding the open house program scheduled for Friday, May 4, from one to four o'clock, at the Warren State Hospital at North Warren. He says this program comes as the climax of the hospital's participation in Mental Health Week, which will be observed throughout the nation.

All residents of the 13 North-western Pennsylvania counties which make up the hospital district are urged to take this chance to inspect the mental hospital which they would use if mental illness were to strike some member of their family. Dr. Israel comments that the era is past in which the state hospitals were feared and avoided. He says, however, that prejudice and misunderstanding about mental disease are still widespread. For this reason, public inspection of the state hospitals is important.

The program on May 4 will consist of tours throughout the entire hospital, through the "disordered," the chronic, and the admission wards. Nurses and supervisors of the hospital will act as guides for each group of visitors. An information center will be established to answer questions about the hospital program and plans. Dr. Israel stresses the fact that the entire purpose of the Open House program is to make the public better acquainted with the problems and the work of the State Hospital. "The hospital at Warren," he points out, "is not a private corporation. It is the property of the people of Pennsylvania. It represents a tremendous investment of public tax money, and when you remember that mental disease strikes one out of every 10 persons, you can see that hardly a family in this area will not have occasion to use the hospital at some time or other." For these reasons he urges all citizens to inspect the hospital on May 4.

Foremen's Group Is Assigned An Interesting Topic

The Foremen's part in determining the policies of the companies will be the keynote of the discussion at the Management Development Group of the Warren Foremen's Club at the YMCA this Thursday evening. Fred L. Plummer, director of engineering of the Hammond Iron Works will be the moderator, and the resource and answer man for this important subject will be Harry W. Conarro, general manager and vice president of Struthers Wells Corporation.

The subject is "Policy Determination" and the Group at their session last Thursday evening selected five very pointed questions which will serve as the starting point of their discussion with Mr. Conarro in the "round table" this Thursday at the YMCA.

This session of the group is the fourth in the series of five meetings, with the final meeting to be held on May 3 when the subject will be around the topic of Plant Morale and the resource man will be J. A. Krause, district plant manager of the Bell Telephone Company.

Sensational Saturday Evening Post Story "I Was A Communist For The F.B.I." At The Library Theatre Sunday, Monday, Tuesday

The story of a daring undercover Federal agent, Matt Cvetic, based on a series of articles describing his dashing activities in the Saturday Evening Post. "I Was A Communist For The F. B. I." comes to the Library Theatre on Sunday, Monday, Tuesday.

Frank Lovejoy, the likable sergeant of "Breakthrough," plays the title role of the intrepid Cvetic who went underground for an amazing nine-year period during which even his family didn't know what he was doing.

Only the F.B.I. and his priest knew that throughout the war, instead of being on some proverbial far-flung battlefield, Cvetic was living through some mighty thrilling and dangerous experiences right in his own home town in the double-life role he was playing.

That full tank of gasoline will cost more than most telephone subscribers pay for a full month of telephone service.

We buy gasoline, too, and our 3,500 trucks and cars guzzle it every hour of every day. The costs of everything we buy have been going up and up, just like the costs of everything you buy.

This isn't the fault of those we buy from. It's the fault of the dollar. In terms of what it will buy, the dollar is worth less today than ever before.

But telephone service, in relation to almost anything you can name, stays high in value and low in cost. It has never been so valuable to so many people as it is today.

Leaders Named in Rural Communities For Cancer Drive Tag Days This Week

Warren county communities report their plans are rapidly rounding into shape for the Cancer Crusade Tag Days to be held this weekend in an endeavor to meet the $5,000 county and borough quota assigned by the state organization.

Mrs. Harriette Gustafson will be in charge of the Tag Day to be held in Tidioute on Saturday and will have as her assistants the following: Robert Benner, Donald DeMarte, Junior Moore, Gail McIntyre and JoAnn Martin. Tag Day in Youngsville will be on Saturday, also, with arrangements handled by Mrs. Albert Meelen, Jr., and members of the Women's Missionary Society of Saron Lutheran church as her workers.

Bear Lake, Lottsville and Wrightsville will have Tag Days both Friday and Saturday, with Sheridan Baker handling arrangements of details. All county, as well as Warren borough solicitation, will be under the general chairmanship of the Warren Business and Professional Women's Club and leaders in several towns have stated they prefer a house-to-house canvass as the means of raising their share of the funds. Among these are the following:

Sheffield, with Mary Richwal-sky in charge, assisted by Sally O'Leary, Madeline Slater, Mary Slater, Sylvia Slater, Jerry Cashmere, Dorothy Peterson, Rita and Jean Kasaback, and Frances Jagger.

Russell, where Mrs. Herman Moll will have as her aides Betty Kirby, Vivian Hovis, Judy Fox, Marg Jones and Shirley Leslie.

Chandlers Valley and Sugar Grove, planned and supervised by Violet Peterson, with the assistance of these workers:

At Chandlers Valley: Doris Mourer, Patty Passinger, Patty Chase, Annabelle Housler, Priscilla Spencer, Marsha Hornstrom, Joan Hornstrom, Judy Morando, Barbara Fisher, Patty Meade and Beatrice York.

At Sugar Grove: Arlene Albright, Barbara Anderson, Linda and Louise Capron, Beverly Groves, Ruth Ann Scott, Nancy

FOUR FINE MICE—They didn't run up the clock but these four healthy laboratory mice are helping to turn the clock forward in the race for a cancer cure. The four rodents have been cured of cancer with chemicals developed under an American Cancer Society grant at Memorial Center for Cancer and Allied Diseases in New York City. Hundreds of chemicals have been screened for a possible cancer cure. These mice were some in which cancer had been induced and chemotherapy cured them. The promising chemicals eventually may be tried on humans. The work, still highly experimental, will continue to be supported by ACS funds. The 1951 Cancer Crusade makes this type of work possible.

Schoonover, Violet Jones, Suzanne Onink, Patty Biehls, Marilyn Miller, Martha Webster, Norma Smith, Sally Siggins, Donna Strand, Emma Carlson and Louise Carlberg.

In connection with announcement of the various Tag Day plans, Miss Olive Phillips, campaign chairman, explains that "a new approach to the cancer control problem is necessary if success is to be achieved and an all-out effort is being made this year to narrow the gap between actual needs and available funds."

"This means", she said, "that we must secure for cancer control the full potential of financial support in the community and county. We know this to be considerable, probably as high as twice what is usually given to the Cancer Crusade. People will be asked to give to the 1951 campaign with an entirely new point of view.

"We are going to ask those who support cancer control to budget their contributions in proportion to the importance of cancer in their daily lives. The fact that cancer strikes eventually in one of every two homes creates a tremendous potential of personal interest in the cancer problem. We hope that contributors will consider this fact in apportioning their gift. It might well be that cancer someday will be the number one problem of any individual or his family and a gift to combat this problem should be of equal concern."

Ludlow Community Association Holds Regular Meeting

Ludlow, Apr. 25—Ludlow Community Association held its 25th annual meeting at DeForest Pavilion in Wildcat Park, with a fair attendance. After the regular meeting directors held their session and the following were elected to serve as officers in the coming year:

President, E. O. Nelson; vice president, Ernest Swanson; secretary, E. W. Johnson; treasurer, M. I. Jones; manager, Albert Carlson. The park attendant will be Arnold Erickson.

Enoch O. Nelson opened the association meeting, with annual reports read by E. W. Johnson and M. I. Jones. Mr. Nelson was re-elected to a five-year term as director, since one member goes off the board each year. The treasurer's report showed 1950 was an outstanding one for the park and detailed plans for the coming season were discussed.

To conclude the evening, coffee and doughnuts were served by the committee.

Oscar Carlson, Main street, is confined to his home with influenza and complications. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carlson and family, Warren, were callers at the family home Sunday.

Child Cancer Toll Is 3,000 Annually

Cancer is least prevalent among the young, but nevertheless took the lives of approximately 3,000 children under 15 years of age last year.

The type of cancer which occurs most frequently in children is leukemia, a malignant growth of white cells in the blood. This caused more than 1,350 deaths in young boys and girls last year. Scientists are hopeful that current research in hormones may provide a method of controlling leukemia since unusually promising results have been obtained in a few cases.

Cancer has a tragic impact on young lives through the death of parents. Every year more than 60,000 children lose a father or mother to cancer.

Early detection and prompt treatment of cancer can reduce the deaths by one-third. Meanwhile, a multi-million dollar research program supported by contributions to the Cancer Crusade is seeking the causes of the disease and new cures.

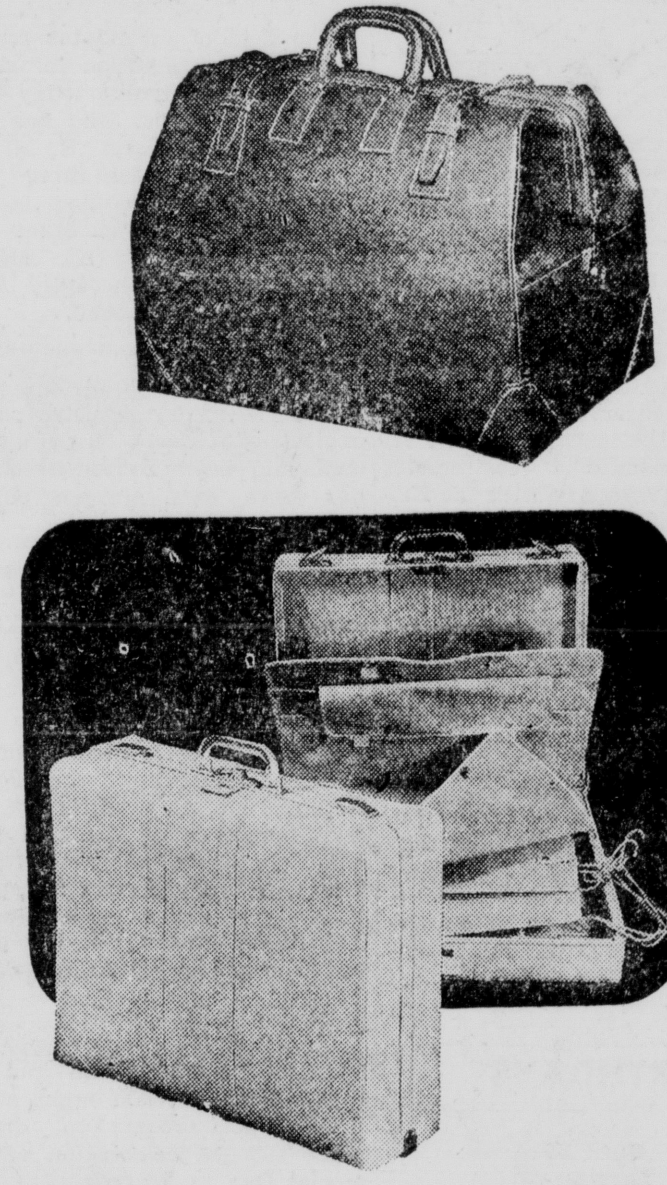

Your dollars help guard your family. Strike back! Give to conquer cancer.

Here And There

It was ninety years ago this month, April 17, to be exact, that Henry R. Rouse, who spent most of his life in the county, was fatally burned in an oil fire which took the lives of 19 persons. On his deathbed he dictated a will leaving in trust to the commissioners of Warren county the sum of $185,000, the interest from which was to be used, half for the roads of the county, and half for the care of the poor. A special law in 1862 gave the county commissioners the title "commissioners of the Rouse estate." Two years later the present Rouse Hospital was erected at Youngsville.

This 'N That: According to a correspondent from Camp Atterbury, Ind., the 28th Infantry Division will furnish the saluting unit to fire a 17-gun salute for General Douglas MacArthur at Chicago this week, and it will be Battery B, former Pennsylvania National Guard unit from Wilkes-Barre. . . . Announcement may be expected within the next week or ten days regarding plans for Saturday afternoon baseball at the Warren State Hospital this season. . . . The possibility that the "home team" may be the Warren Merchants, taking over for the National Forge & Ordnance, if the boys down at Irvine decide that scheduled shifts will not permit the fielding of a fast team this season. . . . Warren "grunt and groan" fans will be interested to learn that Lord Blears will pair with another villain, Kay Bell, as one of the teams in the "Tag Team" match which will feature the ABC mat card at Gannon Auditorium in Erie Thursday night, and opposing this combine will be the popular team of Kovacs and Farmer Don Marlin, who last a match to Blears at Celoron Monday night. . . . A quantity of earth is being deposited over the unsightly dumping spot along the river road between the rear cemetery entrance and Glade, which discourages trespassers from continuing the practice of disposing garbage at that particular point, while up at Kane "The Bird" column says "More and more civic indignation is being aroused over the dumping of garbage and other litter along scenic highways of the section." . . . Plenty of activity around the exterior of the Warren General Hospital to keep interested patients who are well enough to observe what is going on around the institution. . . . Ed Patrick, graduate of Westminster College and formerly with the Kittingham Daily Leader and New Wilmington Globe, is the new publisher of the Marienville Express and general manager of the Forest Press, Inc., of Tionesta. . . . The 24th good well and the second in two days to be brought in the Leidy field in Clinton county by the new super charge came roaring earthward late Friday afternoon on the Campbell estate, drilled by the New York State Natural, and gauged at two million feet pressure. . . . Men participating in the county chess and checker tourney being staged at the YMCA are having some exciting entertainment each Monday evening.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

MacArthur Speech Leaves Many Points Unclassified

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON—(NEA)—New and perhaps prolonged arguments by armchair generals and amateur strategists seem due as a follow-up to Gen. Douglas MacArthur's address to Congress. It cleared up some points on which there has been misunderstanding or misinterpretation of the general's views. But it also raised some new points for investigation and discussion.
"No man in his right mind would advocate sending our ground forces into continental China," said General MacArthur. That would seem to take out of the argument the idea mistakenly attributed to him of wanting to have Chinese Nationalist troops launch a full-scale invasion of the Chinese mainland with the support of U. S. forces. General MacArthur and the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington would therefore seem to be in complete agreement on the inadvisability of opening a second front in South China.
However, MacArthur DID urge "removal of restrictions on the forces of the Republic of China on Formosa, with logistical support to contribute to their effective operations against the Chinese mainland." What does he mean by "logistical support"? Does he mean U. S. air cover and U. S. naval transport and warship protection? What does he mean by "effective operations"? Does he mean hit-and-run raids? These are points that need clarification.
Another point needing a great deal of clarification is on what kind of an air war—if any—should be carried on against Chinese coastal cities and the Red air bases in Manchuria, north of the Yalu River. In his speech to Congress, General MacArthur declared his belief that even the Joint Chiefs of Staff had supported his views on the necessity of an economic and naval blockade of China and "removal of restrictions on air reconnaissance of China's coastal area and of Manchuria."
The important thing to note here is that General MacArthur spoke of "air reconnaissance." He did not say "aerial attack" nor did he advocate the bombing of Communist air bases and cities in coastal China and Manchuria. It has been generally understood that General MacArthur has in the past been advocating that the war should be carried north of the Yalu River. U. S. and Allied UN planes are now forbidden to fly beyond the Korean border.
Time may, of course, prove right the contention that Red Chinese air bases in Manchuria should be attacked now, regardless of whether this has been what General MacArthur has been advocating or not. As the general declared in his speech to Congress: "Any new enemy will more likely strike whenever it feels that the relative of military and other potentialities is in its favor on a world-wide basis."
What this is taken to mean is that Russia has not used its own air force in Korea up to this time because it has not been ready. It implies that Russia may throw her air power into the Korean war against United Nations troops at some later date. If this time should come, the wisdom of having earlier attacked and destroyed these Red air bases, before the attack was launched from them, will be apparent.
BUT here again there seems to be some difference between what General MacArthur has been understood to advocate in the past, and what the Joint Chiefs of Staff have laid down as their strategy. There has been general belief at the Pentagon that General MacArthur had previously approved the Joint Chiefs of Staff position that Red air power should not be provoked into greater participation in the war. UN ground troops in Korea have thus far been completely free from Communist aerial bombing attack. This has been a tremendous advantage to Allied forces and all commanders are believed to have been in agreement that this advantage should be kept as long as possible.

TIME FOR COOL REASONING

Ideally, General MacArthur's appearance before congressional committees would be set back a while to allow the nation to simmer down from the high pitch of its magnificent tribute to him.

No soldier who ever returned from the wars is more deserving than he of the tremendous show of regard and appreciation which America's great cities have showered upon the general. This was his hour—and it should have been.

But the emotional fervor that goes with such a warm-hearted demonstration has no place in the new "great debate" precipitated by MacArthur's dismissal.

As Bruce Blossat says in an editorial written for NEA Service, "so long as emotion rules, reason cannot play its proper role. There is danger that the country's top lawmakers and the people as well, might be tempted to decide the grave issues raised by the general solely on the basis of personalities."

MacArthur is a towering figure, a strong personality. Beside him, President Truman does not look tall, or strong. The general makes a great impact even on people who disapprove his actions.

But it would be a serious mistake were the questions of basic Far Eastern policy to be reduced to a personality contest. Obviously, from the standpoint of a nation's safety and welfare, the best answer to a problem is not always the solution proposed by the more popular of two antagonists.

The arguments posed by MacArthur merit the fullest and most painstaking analysis we can give them. They may be totally right, or totally wrong, or just partly one or the other.

Whichever it is, the American people and their elected representatives must make the decision on the basis of facts and careful reasoning. They cannot dare make a choice because they "like" MacArthur better than Mr. Truman, or vice-versa.

Mr. Truman's policies must not be discredited because he writes intemperate notes to music critics and newspapermen. They deserve consideration on their merits. By the same token, no one should attempt to detract from MacArthur's arguments by searching out flaws in his past military performance. His 1951 policies should not be weighed in the light of something he did in 1925 or 1918.

The issue of where and how to combat Russian communism is of the gravest moment. The American people have now had their emotional celebration in homage of a great general. It is time now to put emotion aside and treat the issue with the sober rationalism it must have if the nation is to be guided well.

NEW OFFENSIVE IN KOREA

According to DeWitt MacKenzie, Associated Press foreign affairs analyst, it is too early to assay the potentialities of the massive Red offensive launched Sunday night in Korea, but apparently it's a major effort aimed at driving the U. N. forces from the peninsula—or dying in the attempt.

Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who succeeded General MacArthur in command, declared that this great battle might well prove decisive. That is, it may be the big showdown.

Much of the terrific weight of 400,000 foot soldiers flung against the Allied lines came from Chinese Communists. An estimated 300,000 more Chinese and North Koreans were held in reserve for reinforcements.

Thus to all intents Red China and the United Nations forces were at war. Technically, however, the well trained masses of Chinese soldiery were "volunteers" who were rushing to the aid of their stricken Red brothers in Korea.

So this is just another phase of the war of aggression against South Korea. U. N. circles are hoping that the Allied high command is right in believing that this human landslide can be stemmed. They hope that if Ridgway can hold the Reds, then maybe the Chinese will be ready to talk peace.

Is Moscow-inspired Red China deliberately inviting trouble with America and her allies?

That could well be. Premier Stalin would give his right arm to see the United States involved in war with continental China while Russia sat on the side lines conserving her strength for eventualities.

Observers generally hold that should the United States allow herself to be drawn into such a conflict, it would be a direct invitation to World War III.

Y-Teens Play Active Part in National YWCA Week

The Y-Teens have played an active part in the celebration of National YWCA Week by presenting a summary of their yearly program to the Rotary, Lions, and Kiwanis Clubs at their regular meetings in the YWCA building.

Mrs. P. F. Collins, Y-Teen program director, introduced Barbara Lundahl, president of the High School Girls Club, who opened the program by telling service club members about National YWCA Week with its motto "It's Your World—Join it through the YWCA." Barbara stated there are 192 members in the High School Girls Club with dues of 50c a year. Half of this amount is sent into the national fund and the other half is kept in the club treasury. The girls meet every Monday evening and special events are held at other times during the week. Bowling meets each Thursday after school and winning at the Y. M. Thursday evening club meeting. The Y-Teen Radio Program is on the air each Saturday morning.

June Odmark, treasurer of the club, told the men about the Monday evening club meeting. The meeting is opened with devotions and the business of the evening is then taken care of. Since the group ball team had practice after the interest groups were over. The basketball team played six competition games with other teams.

Carroll Kotmair, vice president, presented a summary of the special events of the year. They are Hanging of the Greens, Christmas Program for Mothers, Belle Ball, Easter Service, Spring Turnabout Dance, Mother-Daughter Banquet, Senior Breakfast and Slumber Party. These events are annual ones and the girls work hard each year to have them successful. None of these are sponsored to make money. Their sole purpose is for the fun and entertainment of the group and the admission price is kept as low as possible.

Beverly Chapman, secretary, told about "our own Y-Teen camp and summer conference." Y-Teen Camp is held at Camp Newatah on Lake Chautauqua each year. It includes Beauty and Senior High Y-Teens. A varied and interesting program is planned and the girls gain a great deal from this camping experience. 1951 camp will be from June 10-17, the cost being $13.50 for the week. Summer conference was held at Camp Forty Acres, located near Buffalo. Four girls from the group attended this conference last summer. Beverly said that the experience of living and working with girls from varied backgrounds, interests and personalities enriched the lives of all the girls present. Due to lack of leadership, summer conference will be cancelled this year and a trip to New York is being planned in its place. The main object of the trip is to visit the U. N.

Ellen Henderson, Drag-Inn manager, told about the Beauty Y-Teens. Ninth Grade meets every other Tuesday after school. Their main project has been the adoption of Patty Arnold and making her an honorary member. The girls have enjoyed doing things for Patty and like to visit her. Seventh and Eighth Grade Y-Teens meet on alternate Wednesdays. They have business meetings and a planned program. The Beauty Y-Teens collected clothes for needy families and soap which was sent to Korea. Their big event was a turnabout dance held in March this year.

Barbara Lundahl closed the program by telling of the clubs service projects. $30 was sent for Y World Fellowship, 200 candy bars sent to Japan for Christmas and $12.65 sent for Korean Relief.

The girls have learned how to work and have fun together which contributes to the success of our Y-Teen program in Warren.

Republican Group Getting Campaign Plans Worked Out

Plans for the membership drive of the Warren County Council of Republican Women are shaping up in fine style under the direction of Mrs. Ralph Sires, chairman. It is announced by council officers.

The goal is a 100% gain over the present membership and, from the enthusiasm displayed by those in command, it seems as though this may be accomplished speedily. The committee explains that "now, as in no other phase of our life, is the time for each one to assert herself and declare for the rights of freedom and honesty."

The county is almost entirely organized with the necessary captains and the borough, with its nine wards, will be completed this week.

Mrs. J. R. McLaughlin and Mrs. Warren R. Carlin have been given the pleasure of serving as publicity committee.

A dinner of all captains will be held at the YWCA on May 3, at six o'clock, when names of all workers will be released and final plans will be agreed upon.

Looking ahead to the actual campaign's start, the committee asks that all be "ready to receive the workers as they call upon you when the drive gets under way and join up for the education and inspiration which a large and well-informed organization can give."

Save Your Wifely Vetoes For Things That Really Count

THE most important rule in getting along with a man, as many a smart woman has figured out for herself, is never to make an issue of an unimportant matter.

That is sound strategy for several reasons. In the first place, the wife who follows that course is easy to live with. For it is the little things that make up daily living. The wife who doesn't let little things upset her—or feel she has to get her way on minor points—is a good-natured companion. She does a lot to keep the family peace and keep her husband from feeling henpecked or "managed."

And then when a big issue comes along, something that is really important to her, she has an advantageous position.

If she takes a stand, her husband is likely to sit up and take notice. "This is really important to her," he tells himself. And from that point on it's a safe bet that the wife's wishes will be respected in this particular matter.

HUBBY MAY CRACK DOWN

BUT the wife who always fights to have her own way on every little decision isn't in such a good position when she really needs to make her husband understand that something means a great deal to her. Her husband is likely to think she is just determined to get her own way again. He may be so fed up with being outsmarted in minor matters that he is determined not to let his wife have her own way on a major matter.

And since she has never let him have his way without a fight he isn't likely to think, "This is really important to her," when the time comes when it actually is.

Look around you at the women who let their husbands have their own way in minor matters, and you'll usually see that when a big issue comes up it's the wife who gets her way.

Jointure Meeting At Spring Creek Is Largely Attended

The objection that the rural areas might lose control of the schools in their districts was the principal one raised Monday night when 65 taxpayers of Spring Creek township met at the Town Hall to hear the school jointure program involving Spring Creek discussed.

Heading the meeting were Supt. Lawrence Douglas of the Corry schools and H. L. Blair, Warren county superintendent of schools.

During the meeting it was indicated that if a majority of the districts involved in the jointure program feel there will be a loss of control it may be possible to remedy this objection in the final agreement on jointure.

Representatives of the six districts involved met again last night at the Corry school district office to rewrite the agreement.

Following the Spring Creek meeting the wives of the board members served doughnuts and coffee to those attending.

HIGHLIGHT THE SHOW—The near-capacity crowd which greeted the opening performance of the minstrel show in the North Warren community house last night was unanimous in commendation of the work of the blackface endmen who performed under the direction of Interlocutor Gordon Clark, Youngsville. And on the eastern battlefield, a U. N. tank column moved northward into the town of Inje. Korean Reds who had captured the city abandoned it, choosing to fight instead from nearby hills. AP Correspondent Star Carter said the Allied appeared to have stabilized their line below the town.

Red advances were made by leap-frogging one division over another. Fresh troops pushing through dead, wounded and fatigued Reds on the dusty battlefields.

Twice they cut off sizable Allied forces. But times the Allies escaped with slight losses. First it was the Tanks. Then the Belgians.

Front line officers, like the top command, were confident, but not Korean's civilians.

They fled southward into Seoul, and again southward out of Seoul, in great dust-clouded columns. It was their first dishonorable flight ahead of a Red invasion. Dust clouds were so thick it was sometimes impossible to see for more than 10 feet.

Radishes and Onions Give Harvest in Three Weeks

Sow 7-Foot Row of Radishes Every Week and Eat Them Young and Crisp.

The first crops harvested from the Liberty gardens will be onions and radishes. Three weeks after the garden soil has been prepared, and the onion sets and radish seeds sown, they should provide a tempting salad dish for the table.

The thrill of the first harvest is one of the pleasantest of the whole garden year. No one should miss it, but the experienced gardener learns that the sowing of radishes, at least, can easily be overdone. The onions will keep growing and are usable at all stages of growth, but early radishes quickly pass the edible stage and become pithy.

The early type, such as Scarlet Globe, matures in three weeks, and in another week loses quality, so if you have not used them all, there will be a sad waste of good radishes and garden space.

To avoid waste, sow not more than seven feet of row each week until hot weather approaches; or double the sowing, but use a second early, such as Icicle, and start using it when half-grown. For hot weather, sow one of the long, slow growing varieties; and in midsummer put in the winter varieties, which are largest of all, but of good quality and can be used until Christmas.

But remember to sow radishes thinly, and give each plant plenty of room to mature. The seed come up in a few days, and many gardeners sow their first crop by mixing a few radish seed with the seed of other crops, such as carrots, parsnips, parsley and beets, all of which can be sown as soon as the soil has been prepared.

Be sure to use not more than a tenth as many radish seeds. They will come up long before their slow germinating companions, and "mark the row." This will help you cultivate without danger of disturbing the slow sprouting seeds.

SHEFFIELD

The Sheffield township supervisors report Sheffield will go on daylight savings time this year at 2 a. m. Sunday, April 29. Daylight savings time will be observed in the majority of cities and towns throughout this section.

Friday and Saturday, April 27 and 28, will mark the opening of a new paint and wallpaper store in Sheffield by Elmer Day, local painting contractor. The store will occupy the building which formerly housed Virginia's Beauty Shop on West Main street.

On those two days a representa-tative of the Patterson-Sargent Company will be on hand to demonstrate Flatlux, a BPS product for which the new store will have the distributorship.

Day, who has been a painting contractor as well as a furniture refinisher and also furniture and appliance repairman in Erie for the past 30 years, moved to Barnes last fall, where he occupies a new home recently constructed there.

Elmer Day and his staff invite all Sheffielders to attend the opening of his store and to become acquainted with the product he will feature.

HERE'S A LESSON IN AVOIDING TROUBLE

By OSWALD JACOBY

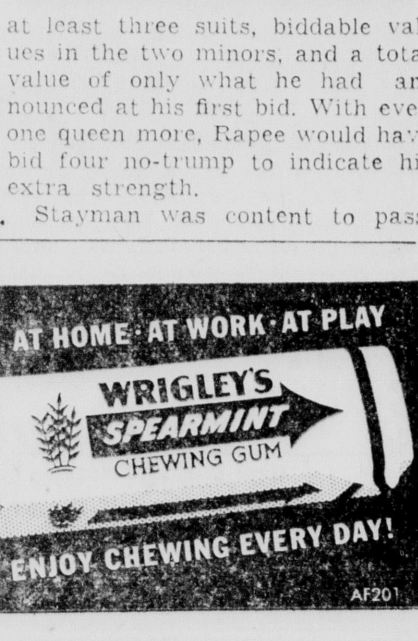

Written for NEA Service One of the most instructive hands of the recent Eastern States tournament showed how experts stay out of trouble. At the first table George Rapee, holding North cards, made an immediate jump takeout to two diamonds, thus showing a hand that was at least as strong as an opening no-trump.

The South hand was held by Sam Stayman, author of "Expert Bidding," one of the finest bridge books that has appeared in many years. Stayman counted up his hand and noted that it was a near-minimum. No slam was likely unless his partner could push past the game level. Hence Stayman put the brakes on at once with a rebid of two no-trump. Rapee next showed his club support, whereupon Stayman could afford to show a fit for diamonds. Now Rapee bid three no-trump to show the exact nature of his hand: balanced distribution, strength in anybody on the spread who isn't loyal to his suit. We're in for a fight and I want a crew I can depend on. Anybody who can't give me his loyalty can get his time. And when Shag snaps out of it, tell him to get his."

He went to his room and got his sixgun and belted it about him, and when he returned he found her waiting for him. She put her hand on his arm. "You fought him and beat him. Shag Dolan, the toughest man on the crew!"

"He's shooting mad and if we tangle again I'll have to kill him. I'll wait in the hall while you pay him off."

SHAG came in without knocking and he was dressed for the trail. One of his eyes was closed and there were cuts on his lips and cheeks. He said harshly, "I come for my time."

Diana had his money ready and he took it and counted it.

He glared at her, but she met his gaze with one equally hostile and at last he said, "That lowly sidewinder! I'll fix his clock proper and you can tell him so from me."

He stamped out of the room, slamming the door behind him.

Jeff was about to come out into the room when a knock sounded on the door and he stepped back into the hall again. Diana called, "Come in!" and six men filed into the room. They shuffled up to the desk and one of them said, "Miss Denton, we've come for our time."

She said tightly, "Friends of Dolan, I suppose," and went behind the desk and counted out the money. They accepted their pay in grim silence and went out.

Jeff came into the room as she was putting the cash box into the safe. He said, "How many have we left on the payroll?"

"We had twenty. This leaves fourteen without counting you."

"Any chance of getting Dowd and Kirk to help us?"

"We've got to have more men," he told her, "and I'm going to see what I can do about it right now."

He went outside, stopping quickly to one side of the doorway, right hand ready to yank his

Titusville Trackers Set New Record, Tie Another in 1st Meet

Titusville High School's track team, Warren High opponent Friday, lost its first meet of the season to a powerful Oil City squad by a 75½ to 30½ score. But the Rockets will be no pushover when they show at Beatty field Friday afternoon.

Although winding up on the short end of the score, the Titusville squad broke an all-time Titusville track record and tied another. The new record was a shot put toss of 42 feet, three inches by Glen Dillon. Cecil Harrison and Gene Schlosser equalled the school's high jump mark of five feet, three inches.

Titusville placed first in three events including the pole vault by Harrison (9 feet, 9 inches); the 880-yd. run, won by Dullakas (2:14), and the mile relay, Dillon, Oberman, Morrical and E. Kerr (3:26).

By coincidence, two members of the Oil City squad, Enos and Kissinger, also cleared the bar at five feet, three inches, creating a four-way tie in that event.
